DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-7, 11, 13-14 and 16-23 are pending.

REQUIREMENT FOR UNITY OF INVENTION

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(a), a national stage application shall relate to one invention only or to a group of inventions so linked as to form a single general inventive concept ("requirement of unity of invention"). Where a group of inventions is claimed in a national stage application, the requirement of unity of invention shall be fulfilled only when there is a technical relationship among those inventions involving one or more of the same or corresponding special technical features. The expression "special technical features" shall mean those technical features that define a contribution which each of the claimed inventions, considered as a whole, makes over the prior art.

The determination whether a group of inventions is so linked as to form a single general inventive concept shall be made without regard to whether the inventions are claimed in separate claims or as alternatives within a single claim. See 37 CFR 1.475(c).

When Claims Are Directed to Multiple Categories of Inventions:

As provided in 37 CFR 1.475(b), a national stage application containing claims to different categories of invention will be considered to have unity of invention if the claims are drawn only to one of the following combinations of categories:

- (1) A product and a process specially adapted for the manufacture of said product; or
- (2) A product and process of use of said product; or
- (3) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and a use of the said product; or
- (4) A process and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process; or
- (5) A product, a process specially adapted for the manufacture of the said product, and an apparatus or means specifically designed for carrying out the said process.

Otherwise, unity of invention might not be present. See 37 CFR 1.475(c).

Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Art Unit: 1644

- I. Claims 1-7 and 11, drawn to a method for separation and purification of fibrinogen and at least one other protein and fibrinogen prepared by said process, Fibrinogen prepared by said process.
- II. Claims 13-14, drawn to a kit comprising fibrinogen and thrombin.
- III. Claims 16-23, drawn to a lyophilized fibrinogen formulation comprising fibrinogen, factor XIII, a carbohydrate, an amino acid, a salt, a buffer and a detergent, the formulation being capable of dissolution in water at ambient temperature in less than 15 minutes, to give a fibrinogen solution.

The Groups of inventions listed above do not relate to a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1 because, under PCT Rule 13.2, they lack the same or corresponding special technical features for the following reasons:

Groups I-III lack unity of invention because the groups do not share same or corresponding technical feature.

Groups I-III lack unity of invention because even though the inventions of these groups require the technical feature of metal ion affinity chromatography matrix for separation of various protein such as fibrinogen this technical feature is not a special technical feature as it does not make a contribution over the prior art in view of US Pat No. 5,169,936.

The US Pat 5,169,936 patent teaches a method for separation and purification of human fibrinogen (see col.10, lines 35-38, in particular) from other protein such as plasminogen and CD4 by loading a solution comprising fibrinogen and contaminants as plasminogen (see , in particular) onto an immobilized metal ion affinity matrix such as copper cation column (see abstract, claims 1 and 15 of the '936 patent, in particular) and selectively eluting the fibrinogen and the at least one other protein separately from the matrix (see summary of invention, col. 2, lines 36-54, in particular).

Since Applicant's inventions do not contribute a special technical feature when viewed over the prior art they do not have single general inventive concept and lack unity of invention.

Art Unit: 1644

Accordingly, Groups I-III are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept and restriction is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention or species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions have unity of invention (37 CFR 1.475(a)), applicant must provide reasons in support thereof. Applicant may submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. Where such evidence or admission is provided by applicant, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Phuong Huynh, Ph.D. whose telephone number is (571) 272-0846.
